Thank you, Schatzi. I really appreciate this. Okay to share with the reporter?

However, I don't see anything here specifically addressing negligence or criminal investigation.

Could you help us develop a response to these questions from the reporter?

1. Is it the EPA's understanding that issues regarding negligence or criminal responsibility will be addressed in the Dept of Interior Investigation?
2. Was a specific request made to Interior to consider those issues?
3. Are those issues being addressed in the EPA's internal review? [FYI I BELIEVE HE'S REFERRING TO THE OIG REVIEW]

Thanks,

Christie

Hi Christie:

I have attached the document you requested. To my knowledge, this document is the only one we are aware of regarding the work DOI was requested to conduct as part of its independent assessment of the 8/5/15 GKM incident.

Hi all, can you please help us track down this document the reporter is referring to?

“EPA/BOR Superfund Program Work Authorization Form dated 8/20/2015 and any attachments”

And let me know if there are any “additional documents that detail the nature and scope of the work that Interior was requested to conduct as part of its independent assessment of the Aug. 5 Gold King Mine incident.”

We're checking with the reporter about his deadline.

Thank you!

Hi Laura, Melissa-

I'm seeking more information about Gold King investigation, specifically whether it will address issues of potential negligence and/or criminal responsibility, as EPA Administrator Gina McCarthy suggested in her appearance before the House Natural Resources and Oversight committees.

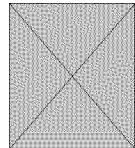

A Politico story yesterday described a "work form" that details the scope of work Interior's Bureau of Reclamation was to undertake.

Is it the EPA's understanding that issues regarding negligence or criminal responsibility will be addressed in the Dept of Interior Investigation? Was a specific request made to Interior to consider those issues? Are those issues being addressed in the EPA's internal review?
